Sorate, HOD, Civil Department to address the audience. Dr. Raviraj Sorate started his speech by adding Sanskrit lines and mentioned activities initiated by him, on national level in innovation.

After HOD addressing Prof. Neha requested students to present their project work one by one. All the resource persons examined each and every project work in relation to innovation. Students were asked to present their PPT's of their projects in front of resource persons. Innovation is the practical implementation of ideas that result in the introduction of new goods or services or improvement in offering goods or services. ISO TC 279 in the standard ISO 56000:2020 defines innovation as "a new or changed entity, realizing or redistributing value". Others have different definitions; a common element in the definitions is a focus on newness, improvement, and spread of ideas or technologies. Innovation often takes place through the development of more-effective products, processes, services, technologies, art works or business models that innovators make available to markets, governments and society. Technical innovation often manifests itself via the engineering process when the problem being solved is of a technical or scientific nature.

After presentations, selected students for innovations were advised to participate in state level, national and international conferences of innovations. Lastly, the event was concluded by giving a vote of thanks by Dr. R. R. Sorate.
