Brief Description of Event:

Mr. Navanath Sarode given an introductory speech about the cleansing therapy that Cleansing, or detoxification, is an ancient method of healing. The accumulation of toxic substances in the body, whether end products of metabolism or environmental toxins, is thought of as one of the root causes of many organ system dysfunctions. Cleansing these contaminants from the system is essential for healing. He introduced the speaker for Cleansing Therapy and Physical Fitness session Dr. Uday Navalekar, he is Principal, Parvekar College Yavatmal.

Dr. Uday Navalekar focused on Cleansing Therapy is an alternative healing and cleaning technique propagated by Dr Piyush Saxena after years of research and successful trials. It is based on the concept of cleansing up of toxins from various parts of the body using completely natural and commonplace products found in our kitchens or in the neighborhood shops. Cleansing Therapy does not claim to be a replacement for modern allopathic treatments and surgery, which are perhaps necessary in acute conditions and surgery.

Strengths of Cleansing Therapy

There are three core Strengths of Cleansing Therapy.

1. These uses naturally occurring, beneficial substances, which are found in abundance .
2. These Cleanses are completely safe and have no known or reported side-effects even after several years of practice. They have just not been publicized enough to pass on the benefits to the masses because they are easy to administer and can be self-administered in most cases.

All Teaching, Non-Teaching staff of APCOER, APCOER Students attended Cleansing Therapy and Physical Fitness online program. There was 126 participants attend ended online session and took a benefit of Cleansing Therapy session.
